

Project Evaluation Rubric

Technical Project Evaluation

- Is there a technical system design? (5pts)
 - Technical environment is listed (requirements.txt, OS version)
- Is the code commented? (5pts)
- Does the code execute without errors? (2pts)
- Does the code do what the system design says it does? (3pts)

Communication

- Is the problem identified and clearly described? (5pts)
- Is the audience of the presentation identified? (2pts) Is the content relevant to the target audience? (2pts)
- Does the solution proposed make sense on how it is connected to the problem? (5)
- Are there resources for the audience to learn more about technical aspects of the project? (3pts)
- Is the code on Github and commented effectively for technical audiences? (5pts)

Solving the Client's Problem

- Does the project address the root problem of the client? (5pts)
- Does the project address incentives of the client? (3pts)
- Can the client feasibly implement the solution proposed? (5pts)

Total Points: 50 pts